

THE PUTTKAMMER CENTER FOR EDUCATIONAL JUSTICE

LEARNING COMMUNITIES, RESEARCH, AND CO-CREATION IN CARCERAL FACILITIES

JOIN OUR NEW WORKING GROUP

The Puttkammer Center for Educational Justice is convening a working group of scholars and advocates, including and especially those who are impacted by the criminal legal system, to share theories and practices of co-creation that engage incarcerated scholars. We look forward to learning from each other, and we are especially interested in exploring models to:

- Conduct and publish research in collaboration with incarcerated scholars
- Engage incarcerated scholars as tutors, instructors, and academic counselors
- Compensate scholars behind bars

Members will be compensated $1,000 for their participation. We will meet monthly starting in Fall 2025. If you are interested in joining, please complete this application by September 25th. For any questions, please contact Nicole Delgadillo at ndelgadillo@peteygreene.org. Learn more about our organization.
